

This year's Common Reader is

Double Take, a Memoir, by Kevin Connolly, a twenty-four-year-old man who has seen the world in a way most of us never will. Whether swarmed by Japanese tourists at Epcot Center as a child or holding court at the X Games on his mono-ski, Kevin Connolly has been an object of curiosity since the day he was born without legs. Kevin's remarkable journey will change the way you look at others, and the way you see yourself.

Books are $5.00 for all CMC staff, students, and faculty. Get your copy today and plan to attend the author's visit to Breckenridge campus on Wednesday, November 3rd. As you enjoy reading Double Take, keep in mind that CMC's literary journal, Rocky Mountain Reflections, will sponsor an essay contest for writings based on this dazzling memoir.

Wednesday, November 3rd
Afternoon Visit with Students
12:30pm - 2pm

Talk & Book Signing
7pm - 9pm
CMC Breckenridge Auditorium

For more information contact Joyce Mosher at (970)453-6757 ext. 2607 or jmosher@coloradomtn.edu www.ColoradoMtn.edu/Summit double take, 1. A rapid or surprised second look, either literal or figurative, at a person or situation whose significance has not been completely grasped at first. 2. "An empowering read." People

DOUBLE TAKE

A MEMOIR

KEVIN MICHAEL CONNOLLY